
Continuation of Serial No. 10/213,965
Previous Group Art Unit No. 1648

Abstract

A new mumps vaccine is presented, comprising a homogeneous pure isolate derived from the Jeryl-Lynn strain of mumps virus. In a preferred embodiment of the invention the vaccine produces higher seroconversion and antibody titres than known commercial vaccines.